Swimmers in the British Navy.
Twenty-five years ago it was discovered by official inquiry that 50 per cent of the British marines and more than 80 per cent of the sailors on British rescued men unable to swim. Eight per cent of the officers could not do this. This was followed by the adoption of a regulation requiring all who entered the navy to learn this art. In particular it was stated that the great number who lost their lives in the Victoria water did not perish because they were not taught to swim, as first reported, but because they were not jumped into the water in life jumps that they were able to use their limbs."—Philadelphia Ledger.

No Catch There.—"Chicago queer town," remarked a Detroit free who had been out there during fair "line up" inquired a listener. "The officers of law and the enforcers of order during many there, a station in it and thank it."

There were at least fifty people in the crowd to witness the trial, and to assist in punishing him and please of lawless men. "I am innocent," he protested, "I didn't get off seat free." "Aw, that's off," expostulated the listener. "No, no, no, some catch to that." "No there is no catch," protested the narrator. "I couldn't catch him in the crowd and escape."  Flower

I have been troubled with dyspepsia, but after a fair trial of AUGUST FLOWER, am freed from the vexatious trouble.—J. B. Young, Bangor College, Harrodsburg, Ky. I had a headache one year steady. One box of August Flower cured me. I am positively worth one hundred dollars to me.—J. W. Smith, P.M. and Merchant, Townsend, Ont. I used it myself for constipation, indigestion and it cured me, it is the best seller I ever handled.—C. K. Drugget, Mechanicsburg, Pa.
